What Is National Drug Facts Week?

National Drug Facts Week, January 26– February 1, 2015, is a health observance for teens that aims to shatter the myths about drugs. Communities, schools, and organizations are joining forces with NIDA to encourage teens to get the facts through community-based events and activities that focus on the science behind drug abuse.

National 4-H Council Celebrates NDFW by launching a New Healthy Living App. National 4-H Council in partnership with NIDA hosted the first Health Rocks! Youth Ambassador Summit. The event brought together youth and adult leaders from several states and industry leaders to discuss solutions to fight substance use and abuse in their communities.

Minnesota Teens Take a Stand During NDFW. Henry Sibley High School Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) members from Mendota Heights, MN, made their own statements regarding drug facts during NDFW.

Ask teens and their parents to take the online National Drug IQ Challenge. Put it on a big screen for your event!

Fitchburg takes the IQ Challenge!
Fitchburg Community Action Team (FCAT) held an afterschool IQ Challenge event as part of its participation in NDFW. FCAT joined teens across the United States in a week-long effort to shatter the myths on drugs in Fitchburg, MA. As part of the NDFW celebration, Fitchburg students hosted a presentation designed by youth, for youth, to increase awareness of drugs and drug abuse.

Teens from Vernon Coalition in Newton, NJ, displayed their artwork for NDFW 2014.
